PROPOSAL DEADLINE
The submission deadline for proposals to present at the TESOL 2014 Convention is Monday, 3 June 2013 at 5 pm Eastern Daylight Time in the United States. (For time zone differences worldwide, click here. The electronic proposal system does not accept proposal submissions after the deadline date and time.)

ELECTRONIC SUBMISSION OF PROPOSALS
All proposals must be submitted online through the TESOL website using the Précis Abstract Management System. Faxed or mailed proposals will not be accepted or acknowledged.

TESOL INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION MISSION AND VALUES

Mission
The mission of TESOL International Association is to advance professional expertise in English-language teaching and learning for speakers of other languages worldwide.

Values
- professionalism in language education
- individual language rights
- accessible, high-quality education
- collaboration in a global community
- interaction of research and reflective practice for educational improvement
- respect for diversity and multiculturalism

2014 TESOL INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION & ENGLISH LANGUAGE EXPO
The annual TESOL convention offers English-language teaching (ELT) professionals and scholars from around the globe the premier opportunity for professional development. ELT educators and scholars from 100 countries exchange ideas and practices, enhance their knowledge of a vast range of ELT content areas, keep up with current trends, expand their professional networks, engage in mentoring on research and other projects, review the latest professional publications and resources, and learn about advocacy efforts in their community and around the world.

2014 Convention Theme
Explore, Sustain, Renew
ELT for the Next Generation

2014 Convention Vision
The organizers of the 2014 TESOL International Convention & English Language Expo in Portland, Oregon, invite professionals and scholars from around the world to follow in the footsteps of the explorers and pioneers who traveled the Oregon Trail. Explore our rich and extensive field of English-language teaching (ELT) with colleagues from around the world in the Great Northwest.

In the environmentally progressive City of Roses bordered by Mount Hood and Mount St. Helens, sparkling rivers and waterfalls, and the nearby Pacific coast, sustain and renew your professionalism and your professional contacts and friendships as TESOL International Association approaches its 50th anniversary and prepares for the next generation of learners and educators.
The Venue: Portland, Oregon USA
Portland is located within 5 hours by air from most North American destinations, and Portland’s International Airport serves 13 million travelers annually, providing nonstop service to domestic and international destinations worldwide. The airport is conveniently located 9 miles from downtown, with hotels, restaurants, convention center, and shops easily accessible by MAX Light Rail.

Throughout this eclectic city, visitors can renew their spirits by walking or biking through the city’s sustainable neighborhoods or lush green spaces, or by exploring restaurants, brew pubs, food cart pods, and inviting cultural attractions. Blend in moderate weather, year-round sports and scenic sights nearby, spotlighted in this short video, and you’ll see why Portlanders love their city!

INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE
Professionals and scholars from all English-language teaching (ELT) educational contexts worldwide and all related fields and content areas are invited to submit proposals to present at the 2014 TESOL International Convention & English Language Expo. Proposals are refereed by TESOL members who are trained reviewers from the content areas designated on the proposals.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES
Each presentation proposal includes one organizer. The organizer may also be a presenter, along with other presenters. The roles and responsibilities are as follows:

- An organizer/presenter is the main correspondent and will present at the convention. The presenter’s name and institution will appear in the Convention Program Book. The organizer/presenter will communicate in a timely manner with all other presenters about the status of the proposal and other information sent by TESOL.

- Alternately, an organizer/nonpresenter is the main correspondent but will not present at the convention. His or her name will not appear in the Convention Program Book. The organizer/nonpresenter will communicate in a timely manner with all presenters about the status of the proposal and other information sent by TESOL.

- A presenter will present at the convention. The presenter’s name and institution will appear in the Convention Program Book. TESOL will communicate with organizers about the status of proposals and convention session details. Presenters should remain in ongoing contact with organizers and vice versa.

The maximum number of presenters per session, including an organizer/presenter, varies by session type, as noted below in the Session Type section.

All organizer/presenters and presenters must

- register for the convention. (TESOL does not reimburse expenses, i.e., registration, travel, hotel, meals, and audiovisual equipment, etc.).
refrain from changing the conceptual content of the session as described in the proposal abstract and description after the proposal has been accepted.

Organizer/presenters and presenters are expected to engage the audience in sessions and not read scripted presentations.

The organizer must keep presenters informed and send presenter change of contact information or change of status to TESOL Conference Services via e-mail to conventions@tesol.org.

Following acceptance of the proposal, the organizer should order audiovisual (AV) equipment needed for the presentation by the specified deadline.

No-Show
Every year at our convention, some colleagues who have agreed to present simply do not show up for their presentations. These no-shows waste convention attendees’ valuable professional development time and reflect poorly on the overall quality of the convention program. If extenuating circumstances prevent you from fulfilling your commitment, please contact Lisa L Dyson (ldyson@tesol.org), CMP, immediately. If you fail to contact TESOL and you do not show up for your presentation, you cannot submit a proposal for TESOL 2015.

TYPES OF SESSIONS

Colloquium (1 hour, 45 minutes; 6 presenters max.): A forum for a group of scholars to formally present and discuss current ELT issues. Presenters exchange papers in advance and formally discuss positions during the session. The organizer is responsible for recruiting presenters who represent various viewpoints in the field before submitting the proposal. A colloquium may not have more than six presenters, including the leader.

Discussion Group (45 minutes, 3 presenters max.): An opportunity to discuss a hot topic in TESOL within a structured roundtable format. The discussion leader(s) should have a strong knowledge of the designated topic and should include the audience in the discussion.

Roundtable Discussion (45 minutes, 1 presenter): Peer-to-peer facilitated discussions with a small group of attendees. The facilitator should have a strong knowledge of the topic and be able to engage everyone in the discussion.

Poster Session (1 hour, 15 minutes; 2 presenters max.): A visually-explanatory exhibit that allows for short, informal discussion between the presenter(s) and attendees, as attendees circulate within the poster-session area. Poster sessions serve as an important and interactive forum for sharing professional ideas and work and for receiving feedback. Poster exhibits are set up side by side within the session area during the hour before the session and dismantled within the hour afterward.

The visually engaging poster is mounted on a 4-foot by 8-foot display board that includes the session title, the name and institutional affiliation of the presenter(s), and very brief text with clearly labeled photos, drawings, graphs, or charts. On their feet throughout the session, presenters are expected to be available for discussion during the entire midday session as attendees circulate among the poster sessions. No AV equipment or electrical access will be available. Detailed guidelines will be sent to accepted poster session presenters.
Practice-Oriented Presentation (45 minutes, 3 presenters max.): A session that shows, as well as tells, a technique for teaching or testing. The presenter should spend no more than 10 minutes explaining the underlying theory.

Research-Oriented Presentation (45 minutes, 3 presenters max.): An oral summary, with occasional reference to notes or a text that discusses the presenters’ topic and work in relation to theory and/or practice.

Teaching Tip (20 minutes, 2 presenters max.): Similar in content to a practice-oriented presentation but shorter. The teaching tip session is an oral summary that discusses the presenter’s work in relation to practice.

Workshop (1 hour, 45 minutes; 6 presenters max.): A carefully structured, hands-on professional development activity. The presenter(s) and participants tackle a problem or develop specific teaching or research techniques.

PROPOSAL EVALUATION CRITERIA
All proposals are individually reviewed by at least two peer reviewers who are TESOL members. The reviewers will have the opportunity to provide comments that will be sent to the proposal organizer. Reviewers will not know the organizers’/presenters’ names or institutions. Organizers/presenters will not know the reviewers’ names or institutions. Proposal reviewers will use the evaluation criteria and scoring rubric below. The maximum proposal score is 25 points.

Reviews are referred to the interest section chairs who advise the Convention Program Committee. Comprised of the convention program chair and associate program chairs, this committee works with the TESOL staff office to select the final proposals.

Total Score:
3. Theory, practice, and/or research basis

| The proposal does not mention theory, practice, or research, or it is unclear how this session is connected to the field. |
| The proposal provides background references to theory, practice, and/or research, but it is not specific, or it does not relate the theory, practice, and/or research to the content of the presentation. |
| The proposal refers somewhat to the theory, practice, and/or research on which the presentation is based in an understandable way and relates it to the content of the presentation. |
| The proposal refers clearly to the theory, practice, and/or research on which the presentation is based in a thorough and comprehensible manner and relates it directly to the presentation content. |
| The proposal refers specifically to the appropriate theory, practice, and/or research on which the presentation is based in a detailed, thorough, and comprehensible manner and relates it directly to the presentation content. |

4. Support for practices, conclusions, and/or recommendations

| The proposal makes claims with no indication of the support for those claims. |
| The proposal makes some stated or implied reference to support, but it is not clear whether sufficient support will be provided for practices, conclusions, or recommendations. |
| The proposal give some indication as to how practices, conclusions, or recommendations will be substantiated. |
| The proposal provides details indicating that the practices, conclusions, or recommendations will be substantiated. |
| The proposal provides ample details indicating that the practices, conclusions, or recommendations will be well substantiated. |

5. Clarity of proposal as indicator of presentation quality

| The way in which the proposal is written suggests that the presentation may be poor. |
| The way in which the proposal is written suggests that the presentation may be weak. |
| The proposal is adequately written but suggests that the presentation that may be uneven or of moderate quality. |
| The proposal is clearly written and suggests that the presentation will be of very good quality. |
| The proposal is very well written and suggests that the presentation that will be of professional quality. |

Comments:

Factors Affecting Proposal Selection

International TESOL conventions bring together professionals and scholars from around the world working in diverse roles with English language learners of all ages and at all stages of language development. Therefore, an important factor in proposal selection is program balance. Both the TESOL Interest Section leaders and the Convention Program Committee strive to balance the convention program by considering the following:

- range of topics within the ELT profession
- relevance to TESOL conferees and to the convention theme
- number of presentations on the same or similar topics and/or subtopics
- content-area coverage
- apparent level of expertise of presenters
• professional and geographic distribution of presenters

An important factor in proposal evaluation and scoring by reviewers is attention to all five of the criteria in the Proposal Rating Rubric. Abstracts and session descriptions should be clearly and concisely written to convey the session’s significance and its appropriateness to the field and intended audience. Carefully written and edited, they should demonstrate evidence of a high quality of research and/or practice, as applicable, as well as clear evidence that the session will be well organized and presented.

Factors Disqualifying a Proposal
• The proposal is not received electronically by TESOL by the deadline.
• The proposal is incomplete or not completed according to the guidelines in the Call for Participation.
• The session title, abstract, or description includes the name(s) or institution(s) of organizers or presenters.
• The same or a similar proposal is submitted to more than one interest section or session type.
• The presentation promotes commercial interests.

SUBMITTING A PROPOSAL
All session organizers must submit proposals online through the TESOL website using the Précis Abstract Management System. The software system does not allow for entries or changes to entries after the deadline date and time.

The submission deadline for proposals to present at the TESOL 2014 convention is Monday, 3 June 2013 at 5 pm Eastern Daylight Time in the United States. (For time zone differences worldwide, click here.)

A separate online proposal submission must be completed for each proposed session.

Mailed or faxed proposals will be disqualified and not acknowledged. All submissions must adhere to the guidelines in this Call for Participation. If you have questions, email TESOL Conference Services or call TESOL at 1-703-836-0774.

Recommended Submission Process
• Collect and prepare all submission information well in advance.
• Draft the proposal using the TESOL 2014 Proposal Worksheet below.
• Refer to the detailed information and instructions in this Call for Participation.
• Visit Précis Abstract Management System at the TESOL website.
• If you are new to the Precis system, you will be asked to create a username and password. Once you do that, you will be able to enter the system to edit your submissions as needed until you are ready to submit. If you have submitted a proposal before, you are already in the system. Please remember that your Precis login may be different from your TESOL website login.
• Follow the Precis instructions to submit your proposal electronically.
• After successfully submitting the proposal, the session organizer will receive an e-mail message confirming receipt of the submission. The message will contain your proposal number for future reference. Please include this number on all correspondence concerning the proposal.
• Please do not mail or fax a duplicate copy of your proposal to TESOL.

PREPARING A PROPOSAL
Parts of a Proposal
The proposal has three components that are scored by peer reviewers: a 10-word title, a 50-word abstract, and a 300-word session description. The title and abstract will appear in the Convention Program Book. Although the session description will not appear in the Convention Program Book, it is carefully read by the reviewers and thus critical to the assessment of the proposal.

Title
The title should accurately reflect the session content and be clear to the intended audience.

In developing the title, the author(s) must conform to the following requirements:

- not exceed 10 words (each part of a slashed or hyphenated word counts as one word)
- not include exclamation or quotation marks
- not include presenters’ names, institutions, or published works
- capitalize all verbs, nouns, adjectives, adverbs, and pronouns; conjunctions, articles, or prepositions of fewer than four letters are not to be capitalized
- capitalize both terms of hyphenated compounds and the first word after a colon

Abstract
Write the abstract with the proposal rating rubric evaluation criteria in mind. The abstract will be thoroughly examined and scored by peer reviewers. Carefully write, edit, and proofread it. The abstract will appear in the Convention Program Book, so it should be written to reflect the presentation’s quality and content and appeal to its appropriate audience.

The abstract session must conform to the following requirements:

- not exceed 50 words
- not include presenters’ names, institutions or published works
- write out acronym(s) or abbreviation(s) used in the title except the following: L1, L2, CALL, CBI, EAP, EFL, EL, ELL, ELT, ESL, ESP, IEP, NNEST, SLA, TESOL, TESL, and TEFL.

Abstracts may be edited by the Convention Program Committee and TESOL staff editors.

Session Description
Write the session description with the proposal rating rubric evaluation criteria in mind. This description will be thoroughly examined and scored by peer reviewers. It will not be published in the Convention Program Book, but it should be written, edited, and proofread to reflect the overall quality of the proposal.

The session description should:

- include a clearly stated purpose and point of view
- include supporting details and examples
- contain evidence of current practices and/or research
• conform to an appropriate session type (e.g., paper, demonstration)
• include a variety of techniques (e.g., activities, visuals)
• indicate an appropriate amount of material for the allotted time
• reflect the presentation content and format

The session description must conform to the following requirements:
• not exceed 300 words
• not include presenters’ names, institutions or published works
• write out acronym(s) or abbreviation(s) used in the title except the following: L1, L2, CALL, CBI, EAP, EFL, EL, ELL, ELT, ESL, ESP, IEP, NNE, SLA, TESOL, TESL, and TEFL.

The session description should also include the following information based on the session type:

Colloquium: synopsis of issue(s), plan of the presentation and topics without listing presenters’ names
Discussion Group: overview, topics and issues
Roundtable Discussion: overview of topic and issues
Poster Session: main topics and description of the visual display
Practice-Oriented Presentations: synopsis, including reference to teaching strategies
Research-Oriented Presentations: synopsis, including central idea and supporting evidence
Teaching Tip: synopsis, including brief description of the teaching tip
Workshop: session goals, synopsis of the theoretical framework, and description of workshop tasks and procedure

AUDIOVISUAL EQUIPMENT
Upon proposal acceptance, session organizers will be informed about ordering audiovisual and computer equipment from the designated equipment vendors. Order forms received after the deadline may not be considered. TESOL does not provide complimentary audiovisual equipment for presenters. However, rooms with a seating capacity of 100 or more will be equipped with a complimentary podium microphone.

CHOOSING THE APPROPRIATE INTEREST SECTION
Choose the most appropriate TESOL Interest Section (IS) to review your proposal. All proposals are evaluated by TESOL members who are trained proposal readers working in conjunction with the IS leaders. A proposal submitted to an inappropriate IS has little chance of acceptance.

To determine which IS best corresponds to your proposal, read the following descriptions before selecting an IS. Additional information on TESOL Interest Sections may be found on the TESOL website. The interest section designated for each presentation will be noted in the Convention Program Book.

Adult Education brings together professionals who represent the knowledge, precepts, and skills of two distinct but compatible areas: adult education and English as a second language.

Applied Linguistics explores language learning and communication through the application of theory to real-world contexts.
Bilingual Education increases awareness of the role of ESL in bilingual education, encourages research in bilingual education, and works closely with TESOL members and other professionals concerned with bilingual education. Teachers of English to deaf students (TEDS) are included in this interest section.

Computer-Assisted Language Learning (CALL) defines issues and standards in CALL, contributes to the computer orientation of other TESOL members, and fosters research into the role of CALL in language learning.

Elementary Education fosters recognition of ESOL as an academic discipline in elementary education, increases awareness of elementary ESOL educators’ needs, and develops new professional resources for teachers and their students.

English as a Foreign Language exchanges ideas on global and specific EFL/ESL issues, bringing together TESOL members with interests and experiences in different countries, and provides an international network on employment and professional interests worldwide.

English for Specific Purposes supports professionals interested in the design and delivery of courses or programs related to specific disciplines such as science, medicine, business, industry, government, and others.

Higher Education advances effective instruction, promotes professional standards and practices, influences and supports policies of TESOL and other associations, determines needs, and considers all other matters relevant to ESL in colleges and universities.

Intensive English Programs addresses issues related to curriculum design and implementation, assessment, teaching standards, and research relevant to teaching English primarily to nonnative international students attending intensive and semi-intensive programs related to regular academic study.

Intercultural Communication promotes intercultural awareness, respect for all cultures and co-cultures, and increased intercultural competency among TESOL educators and scholars.

International Teaching Assistants addresses research, teaching, and administrative issues related to the preparation of international teaching assistants for instructional duties in university classrooms.

Materials Writers fosters the production of materials in ESL and EFL by writers, teachers, curriculum planners, administrators, consultants, editors, artists, and designers. Materials may be in print or on tape, film, video, or computer disk.

Nonnative English Speakers in TESOL strengthens effective teaching and learning of English around the world while respecting individuals' language rights.

Program Administration recognizes the role program administrators play in fostering professionalism and strengthening managerial and leadership skills through a forum that ensures effective ESL/EFL programs.

Refugee Concerns addresses the language, cultural, social, and legal needs (and their interconnections) of refugees at all ages and stages of life.
Secondary Schools represents professionals in the area of secondary education whose task is to ensure that secondary-level TESOL students develop the linguistic, cultural, and cognitive skills necessary for success in an English-speaking context.

Second Language Writing provides a forum for researchers and educators to discuss research, teaching, and assessment of second language writing in all educational contexts and levels.

Social Responsibility comprises TESOL members who are actively engaged in integrating language teaching with social responsibility, world citizenship, and an awareness of global issues such as peace, human rights, and the environment. The interest section aims to promote social responsibility within the TESOL profession and to advance social equity, respect for differences, and multicultural understanding through education.

Speech, Pronunciation, and Listening increases awareness of the significance of learning the spoken forms of English through the exchange of practical and theoretical information related to teaching materials, classroom methods, and research.

Teacher Education discusses issues relevant to ESL/EFL teacher education, promotes professional development of ESL/EFL teachers, and formulates policy that will improve conditions of employment and learning for teachers and students.

Video and Digital Media focuses on the review, production, and use of video and digital materials in English language teaching, including student- and teacher-produced videos, commercially available materials, instruction through movies and television, media literacy, film analysis, intercultural training, video as an assessment tool, teacher education, interactive video, distance learning, and the use of new video-related technology.

CHOOSING CONTENT AREAS

In addition to choosing the most appropriate TESOL Interest Section (IS) to review your proposal, select up to two relevant content areas from the extensive list provided. Proposals will be evaluated by TESOL members who have expressed an expertise in the specific content areas and who are trained proposal readers working in conjunction with the corresponding IS leaders. The content area designated as the primary one will be noted as such in the Convention Program Book. Note that some of the content areas overlap with IS designations; some cover specific subareas within the IS.

AWARDS

Presenters at the TESOL International Convention & English Language Expo are eligible for two awards:

TESOL Award for an Outstanding Paper on NNEST Issues
To be considered for this award and to receive it, the proposal must
- be submitted as a Practice-Oriented Presentation, Research-Oriented Presentation, or Colloquium by a current TESOL member at the time of application who will remain a member through the 2014 convention
- designate the Non-Native English Speakers in TESOL Interest Section on the proposal submission form
- be on a topic relevant to NNEST research and issues
- be original and creative in concept, as well as relevant with broad impact and contribution to the field
- check the box indicating eligibility for this award on the proposal form
• be accepted and presented at the TESOL 2014 Convention

Award recipients will be notified in December 2013. Other applicants will not receive direct correspondence about the status of their award application. The award includes 2014 TESOL convention registration and an honorarium of US$250. If there are multiple presenters in a session, all presenters are recognized as having won the award, but the monetary prize is assigned to the organizer.

Award for International Participation at TESOL

The purpose of this award is to increase participation at TESOL international conventions of presenters based outside of the United States and Canada. Recipients receive up to US$2500 to cover travel and lodging. To apply for this award, session organizers need to check the corresponding Award Eligibility box on the proposal form. All session organizers and presenters must meet the following eligibility requirements:

• be a current TESOL member at the time of application (verified upon receipt of the application) and maintain current membership status through the 2014 TESOL convention
• reside in and be a citizen of a nation outside of the United States or Canada
• be a first-time presenter at the TESOL International Convention & English Language Expo
• submit a Practice-Oriented Presentation, Research-Oriented Presentation, or a Colloquium

Receipt of the award is subject to proposal acceptance for presentation at the TESOL 2014 convention and actual presentation at the convention by the award recipient.

The 2014 Award for International Participation at TESOL winners will be notified of their status in December 2013. Other applicants will not receive direct correspondence about the status of their award application.

STATUS OF PROPOSALS

A letter concerning the proposal status will be sent via e-mail to the person designated as the proposal organizer by the end of October. To ensure that TESOL can communicate with organizers about proposals, they should do the following:

• Use an e-mail address that will be valid from 1 June 2013 to 29 March 2014.
• Add conventions@tesol.org to your e-mail program address book or to spam white (safe) list.
TESOL 2014 PROPOSAL WORKSHEET

All proposals must be submitted to the Precis Abstract Management System, an online convention proposal software program. Proposal organizers need to complete the sections below online. To assist in the development of your proposal, the worksheet is formatted to correspond to the order in which the information will be requested online.

Presenters
All presenters must register for the convention. If presenters are not pre-registered for the convention, accepted sessions may be eliminated from the convention schedule.

Indicate the session role for each person involved in the proposal (see Roles and Responsibilities):
- organizer/presenter
- organizer/nonpresenter
- presenter

Note: Only one organizer may be designated.

The organizer will need the following information for each person in the proposal before submitting the proposal:

- First Name
- Last Name
- Institution Name (Avoid acronyms or abbreviations. Don’t list departments, programs, or centers.)
- Institution City
- Institution State/Province
- Institution Country
- E-mail Address (Indicate whether TESOL may publish the e-mail address in the Convention Program Book.)
- Membership Status: Member, Nonmember (This information is not used during the review process and will not affect the status of the proposal.)
- Session Role:
  - Organizer/Presenter
  - Organizer/Nonpresenter
  - Presenter
- First-Time Presenter? Yes, No
- Consider this person for TOEFL Board Award for International Participation at TESOL? Yes, No (See eligibility requirements under “TOEFL Board Award for International Participation.”)

A letter concerning the proposal status will be sent via e-mail to the organizer by the end of October. To ensure that TESOL can communicate with the Organizer about the proposal:

- Use an e-mail address that will be valid from June 3, 2013 to March 29, 2014.
- Add conventions@tesol.org to your e-mail program’s address book or your spam white (safe) list.

Title of Proposal (10-word maximum):

Type of Session (check one box only)
- Colloquium (1 hr., 45 min.)
- Discussion Group (45 min.)
- Roundtable Discussion (45 min)
