November 16, 2017*

AATA is pleased to announce the launch of our new members-only site, MyAATA. The newly, redesigned MyAATA expands access to the critical research, tools, and connections available exclusively to AATA members. MyAATA is also our exclusive online members-only source of valuable professional development advice and resources to assist you in building a successful career in art therapy.

Visit the new MyAATA today. Instructions for logging in can be found here. If you are not currently a member, please contact us to join or renew and receive access to the new site.

Have questions or need assistance in logging in to the new MyAATA? Please email the National Office at membership@arttherapy.org.
