"I'm donating because I think art allows us to find beauty and strength in the moments when darkness tries to overcome light."

Thank you to all who participated in this year's Giving Tuesday, on November 28th! With your help, we've raised a total of $1260 to support art therapy for communities recovering from disasters. In light of increased momentum for the campaign "Art Therapy Relief for our Communities," the AATA will extend the fundraiser through the end of the year, to December 31, 2017. This means that there's still time to donate directly or to create a personal fundraiser to assist the AATA in the development of art therapy events for relief and recovery efforts in devastated communities.
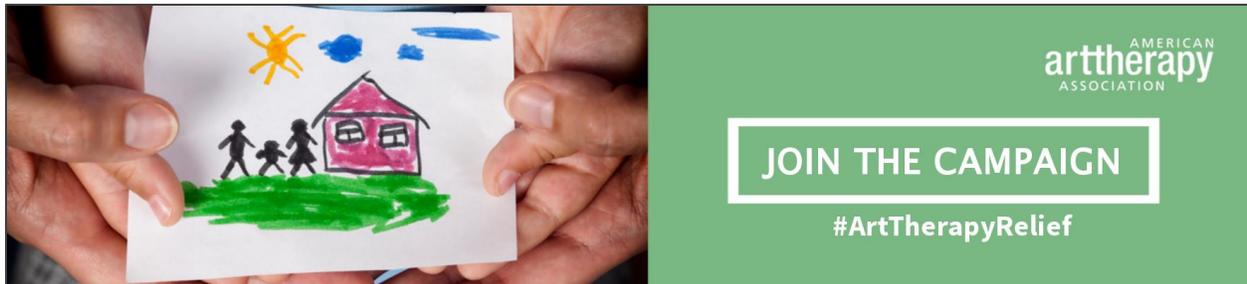

Hear why others chose to donate to this cause:

> "Proud to support my profession, the work of art therapists, and much needed art therapy services in this way."

> "Art Therapy rocks!"

> "Mental health issues are so common and art therapy plays such a big role in the process of healing. Thanks for making a difference Amanda and friends"

How you can help:

- Give today. Your contribution will help fund the creation and implementation of art therapy-based events in local communities impacted by disaster or tragedy.

- Spread the word. Rally your friends, family, and networks to support this campaign and the work of the AATA and its local chapters. Use #ArtTherapyRelief on social media to share your story and promote the campaign!

- If you are an AATA member, create a personal fundraiser page today and share your story about how effective art therapy can be in supporting people who have experienced trauma or displacement. The funds that you raise will go toward the development of art therapy events aimed at relief and recovery efforts in devastated communities.
