Anoka County, Minn. tries a new route for road building
 by Tara Trapp Share Facebook Twitter LinkedIn Google+

Anoka County, Minn. highway officials want to reduce the pain of road construction. They're streamlining it, trying to avoid a process that often stretches out for years. Anoka County has been chosen to try out a new process that combines all the designing, consulting and construction bidding in one package. The system is called "design-build," and the county is trying it out as a pilot project for work on Hwy. 14 (Main Street) west of Hwy. 65. MORE

Officials seek state OK for new way to build toll lane extension
 by The Press Enterprise Share Facebook Twitter LinkedIn Google+

Riverside County, Calif. transportation officials will ask a state commission to place the $1.5 billion project to extend toll lanes on Highway 91 in a pilot program they say will help expedite construction. The California Transportation Commission could allow the project to extend toll lanes from Orange County to Interstate 15 to use design-build, which allows officials to hire one company to oversee engineering and construction. The massive widening is expected to take until 2016. MORE
