Re: Launch of new NOMA Career Center

Dear Members and Friends of NOMA:

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I am pleased and very excited to announce the launch of our newly-designed, and feature-rich, NOMA Career Center, catering specifically, to job seekers and employers in the architectural community. To access the Career Center, please go to www.noma.net and click the "Opportunities" (soon-to-be renamed, "Career Center") link at the top of the page.

The Career Center will serve as a meeting place for both future employees and future employers. Please go to the Career Center site, post your resume and create a profile.

Job Seekers will be able to:

- Create a Job-Seeker Profile
- Gain access to exclusive job opportunities from major firms
- Find local and regional architectural positions
- Receive prompt notification of new openings
- Apply quickly for open positions online
- Post resumes anonymously

Employers will be able to:

- Post open positions
- Reach a targeted audience of architectural professions, interns and students
- Take advantage of affordable pricing (less than half the cost of come other job websites)
- Manage applications through your website or the NOMA Career Center

In the event you have not joined NOMA or NOMAS, as an added incentive to join, for an introductory period—which ends on March 31, 2015, the NOMA Career Center Job Posting Board will be freely accessible to all job seekers--NOMA Members, NOMAS Members, and non-members. On April 1, 2015, while everyone will still be able to view openings, critical contact information will only be made available to current, NOMA/NOMAS members. So please take this opportunity to join or renew your membership now at www.noma.net and click the "join NOMA" link at the top of the page.

Providing Leadership Development and Value will be key tenets of my administration and so. Thank you for your continued support of NOMA and we hope that the new NOMA Career Center makes a significant difference in your job search or recruitment efforts.

Sincerely,

Kevin M. Holland, NOMA, AIA
2015-16 President
