The 2016 ASPE Annual Conference invites you to present! This year we pushed forward our Call for Abstracts to give you and the ASPE membership the full conference program sooner! Our conference consists of technique demonstrations, research/project posters, workshops, panel discussions, and much more! Sessions touch on a wide variety of SP and simulation topics and technology sessions; providing the latest in SP education.

All submissions must be made using the 2016 ASPE online program via the link below. We are unable to accept faxed, mailed, or e-mailed submissions. When writing your abstracts please save a copy for your records in a word document and copy and paste from this document into the online submission program. We look forward to reviewing the content that you can offer for our growing event. Click the links below for more information on the abstract submittal process, examples, and to start your submission!
