

The IPEC Foundation Announces 2021 Award Winners

The IPEC Foundation recently announced its 2021 award winners! The winners will be recognized during the IPEC Foundation's annual awards ceremony that will take place at The Notary Hotel, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on Sunday, October 17th.

Congratulations to the award winners for their efforts and contributions to the field of excipients!

Ralph Shangraw Memorial Award – for individuals who have provided outstanding research contributions in the study of excipients or excipient-related technology.

Dr. Bruno Hancock, Pfizer

Henk de Jong Industrial Research Award - recognizes individuals working in an industrial setting who have made significant contributions in the field of excipient technology.

Panayiotis Constantinides, Ph.D., FAAPS, Biopharmaceutical & Drug Delivery Consulting

Patrick DeLuca Emerging Researcher Award – Recognizes a beginning career scientist (post Ph.D.) who has demonstrated interest and dedication to the area of excipients.

Dr. Na Li, University of Connecticut

Graduate Student Award Winners:

Rahul Lalge, University of Minnesota

Daniela Silva, University of Alberta

Jayesh Sonje, University of Minnesota

Rishi Thakkar, University of Texas at Austin

Bo Wan, University of Connecticut

Congratulations!

IPEC-Americas helps to shape the future of medicines by energizing research in excipients through education and scholarship.